Welcome

It is with great admiration and respect, that we,
the students of York Junior College, welcome into our midst a distinguished gentleman, into whose hands have been placed the reins controlling the future of this institution.

Dr. Miller, through his academic experience, is highly qualified for this position. We feel confident that under his capable administration, this institution will go far towards achieving its destiny.

The Millers

President, Dr. Ray A. Miller

Dear Graduate:

I am happy to greet you upon your graduation from York Junior College and to wish for you and your loved ones all the joys, happiness and personal success that life has to offer.

In the days ahead, your activities will take you to near and far places. Some of you will assume full time employment in local business and industrial establishments, others will go on to institutions where the Baccalaureate Degree will be earned, while others will enter the armed services. All of these are honorable undertakings. If your efforts on their behalf reflect their highest traditions, then you will have justified our faith and confidence in you.

It is our fond hope that you will remember your days at York Junior College as ones that were profitably spent and that you will let us know of your future accomplishments.

Sincerely,

Ray A. Miller

Alumni Representatives

For the past year, all members of the Board of Trustees have been working hard on the development of the Junior College as it concerns accreditation and plans for the new campus. Through the committee system, they spent many hours in making it possible for the youth in York City and York County to continue their education beyond the high school years. To these dedicated men and women, we, the York Junior College graduating class of 1959, express sincere appreciation.

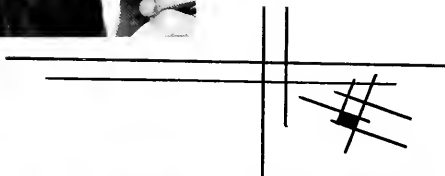

an Administrative personnel

DR. ROLLINS—Dean

The growth of the York Junior College student body from a total of 140 in both day and night classes in 1953 to a total of 501 in September of 1958 has necessitated changes in staff, in curriculum and in administrative organization. Several members of the staff have assumed duties formerly performed by the Dean with the consequence that he no longer has the personal contact with each student that previously was possible. This is one of the unfortunate results of growth, one which eliminates one of the more pleasant aspects of the task. It was a necessary move to take care of present numbers of students and to prepare an organization which will fit better the tasks which will present themselves when the move to the new campus is consummated.

Office Staff, seated: Edith Lookingbill, Virginia Hess, Nonie Sauder. Standing: Janet Toomey, Helen Petters.

At the end of first semester, the well-groomed efficient gentleman who was always making room utilization charts, or conferring with students about bank loans or Public Law 550, resigned as Business Manager-Registrar. We wish "Ken" much success in his new position as Manager of Operations, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York.

Business Manager-Registrar
KENNETH WIDDALL

Secretary of Admissions
DONALD MILLER

In line with the expansion policy of the College, two new administrative officers were appointed second semester. Mr. Donald Miller became the Admissions Secretary who will be responsible for admissions, scholarship, and records division. Mrs. Lois Wetzler became Chairman of Student Personnel Services. She will be responsible for campus student personnel activities as well as Faculty representative to the Alumni Association.

ROGER REYNOLDS—REVEREND JOHN WINTER

York Junior College has added a Developmental Reading program to its growing Guidance department. In this new program students who are plodding slowly, painfully through their studies because of poor reading habits, now have a chance to practice skills which will add up to faster reading, better understanding, and greater reading pleasure.

A modern tachistoscope helps students acquire greater speed and accuracy of visual acuity. A Controlled Reader helps students develop better and faster reading habits.

Our first groups are hardworking, eager and interested in this program. The mechanical equipment, plus daily checks on progress make this a valuable learning experience in such an interesting package, that it seems like fun to learn.

Then a librarian arose and said,

Speak to us of Books.

And the Philosopher replied, saying:

Though your heart know the secrets of the Universe, it knows in silence.

It is your mind that thirsts for the knowledge of your heart.

And it is well that it so should do.

The hidden vineyard of your soul must needs reveal its treasure to your eyes, that your thirst be quenched.

Though no man can reveal to you anything except that which already lies buried in your intellect, he can, through his own experience, lead you to the threshold of your mind.

Though he cannot give you of his vision,
he can awake the vision inside your being.

And though you be confined by the limitations of your physical body to a world of time and space, the printed word has the power to transport your innerself to worlds and times where your body shall never go.

LOUNGE AT LUNCHTIME

What about all those hours beyond the normal schedule of fifteen academic hours? Around the College, extra hours are whiled away in all sorts of ways: Just listening to a fine viola rendition of "Green Sleeves;" hitting and missing the net; sharing ideas for tests; making dates; browsing in the Library; dreaming of the future; having another cup of coffee; and wistfully waiting for spring. These are the hours that open wide the portals to friendships today, and inspirations for tomorrow.

Some of the innovations were: the Convocation ticket plan which allowed students to sit where they pleased; the Council presented for the first time, the School Honor Award; aided the establishment of Theta Delta the religious fellowship fraternity on the campus; established a definite policy concerning activity requirements; sponsored a float in the Hanover and York Halloween Parades receiving prizes in both; sent a delegation to the Annual Conference of Junior College Student Councils at Hershey.

The Student Council sponsored the Freshman Orientation Dance, the Christmas Dance and the May Ball as part of the social life of the college.

Theta Delta, an all-faith service fellowship, consists of nineteen charter members and two faculty advisors, Mrs. Atwood and Mr. Jones.

The purpose of Theta Delta is threefold. Our first aim is to create interest in the service of God among those students previously not so inclined, and at the same time, maintain that interest at a higher level in those already engaged in religious activities. Next, we hope to promote an understanding in the history, beliefs, and practices of various faiths. Lastly, we plan to help new students become acquainted with the religious and social opportunities found in the College and the community.

It is our desire, that in these ways Theta Delta members may contribute to the broadening religious concepts of each College student.

The Glee Club of York Junior College is directed by Miss Finkbinder, who transfers her musical appreciation and enthusiasm to twenty-eight college students.

In addition to entertaining the students with the annual Christmas and spring concerts, the Glee Club sang for York Rotary Club, Council of Adult Education, and several neighboring churches this season.

WOMEN'S ADVISORY GROUP: Mrs. Robert H. Stewart, Mrs. Charles Posey, Mrs. Murvin Sedam, Mrs. John C. Sherrill.

A faint light glimmers in Mrs. Gunter's office until late in the evening. Yes, it's the Yorker staff working furiously to meet the deadline. Oh, oh, trouble ahead! This headline doesn't fit. That story must be "cut." Where are the re-write men?

The Yorker, which provides students with information about college activities, is read by the student body with enthusiasm.

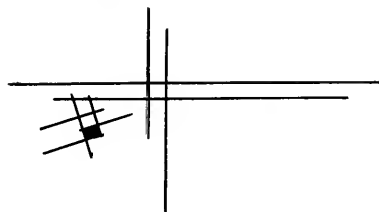

The 1959 Tower

R. Crouse, D. Kefford, Editor, M. Reeve, S. Field, I. Shaffner, B. Hamilton.

"Hurry! Hurry!" was the cry of the editor, as the April 15 deadline approached. This year the yearbook operation didn't begin until the first week in February. However, the book did make the deadline mainly because of good cooperation and some earnest work on the part of the staff and Miss McNitt, our advisor. And now we, the staff, hope this '59 Tower may have recorded the memorable events for the graduating sophomores.

Alpha Rho Sigma men have definitely shown signs of continued interest throughout the past school year in all the fraternity's activities. The members have taken their responsibilities seriously and have helped promote school spirit by active participation in such College sponsored activities as selling shaving permits for Colonial Days celebration, the building of a Halloween float, and the decorating for college dances.

The fraternity has had a series of speakers and movies exemplifying many aspects of engineering; moreover, the members have taken a trip to the Bethlehem Steel Company for observations.

As a closely knit group, the fraternity ended the year with a picnic for the members, the advisors—Mr. Arnold and Mr. Virgin

Footlighters

The Footlighters presented "Curse You, Jack Dalton" in Convocation March 4, 1959. A new technique was used in staging this play; namely, the entire play was presented on the apron of the stage in front of the curtain. No props or scenery whatsoever were used, and all the actors stood for the entire performance. As no microphones were used, the emphasis was placed upon enunciation and voice projection. This method of staging was used to overcome the poor acoustics in the gymnasium.

An All-College Talent Show, in which many students with diversified talents participated, was staged April 29.

For the entertainment of Future Teachers of America, who held a conference at the College, April 13, the Footlighters presented a dramatic reading involving three persons. The selection was adapted from Sheridan's THE SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL.

The purpose of Lambda Sigma Chi Sorority is to serve the College, to develop cultural interests, and to encourage friendships among the women students. Included in the activities of this year were several traditional ones: a Christmas and Easter party for retarded children, a Mother's Day Tea, and an Alumnae Tea. At the beginning of each semester the Sorority invites all the women students to join. By doing so, the Sorority—one of the largest organizations—is able to assist with various College and York City functions, and at the same time encourage closer friendships among the coeds.

The advisors for the group are Mrs. Ray Miller, Mrs. Lois Wetzler, and Miss Carmela Cinquina.

College Picnic

On a sunny September afternoon over three hundred students, Faculty, and families traveled to Hively's Park for a picnic. Outdoor games, lively conversation, hazing the pledges, and good food were all part of the day. In the evening, entertainment was provided by P.J. the D.J. and his records. Then as the evening drew to a close, many new friends had been made, giving promise to a good, friendly year.

Halloween Parade

Sandy Groh

A rainy night in no way dampened the spirit of forty-eight slaves who drew their king and queen and the harem on a float in the annual York Halloween Parade.

Volunteer students worked many hours under the direction of Gale Emig to build the float at Lightning Car-wash.

John Finley

The Student Union Fund for the new campus gained one hundred and twenty-five dollars as a result of the venture when the float won third place in York and first place in Hanover Halloween Parade.

Christmas Dance

AN EVENING WITH BILL COLLINS.

Corsages, lilting music, sparkling gowns, soft light, gallant young men and lovely coeds—all provided a festive holiday atmosphere for the annual Christmas Dance at the Hotel Yorktowne, December 29. Alumni and friends joined the students in welcoming the new college president to the first formal social event.

1958-1959 League Games

99 York vs. Mt. Alto 54

York opened the league season without its co-captain Lonnie Bones who wrenched his knee in the previous Navy game. York still managed to produce almost a hundred points over a very undermanned Mt. Alto squad. Co-captain Don Smith and big Joe Youcheff each had 23 points.

47 York vs. Temple 40

York Junior College won the game at York by seven points. Temple put on the biggest freeze since the blizzard of 1888 by refusing to shoot but merely standing and holding the ball. Don Smith managed to put 13 points through the basket.

75 York vs. Johnstown 45

York's 30 points over Johnstown established a new record by the largest margin in the history of the 13 year-old rivalry. Co-captain Bones played his first league game and dogged the Johnstown defense by his stirring floor play. Don Smith had 24 points, while hard-driving Ray King had 18.

48 York vs. Temple 46

The game was marked by deliberate play on the part of both teams. The win over the Temple squad was the fourth straight victory in the Penna. Junior College League without a defeat. Bones and Mummert hit for 22 points between them.

97 York vs. Keystone 70

Keystone was able to stay with the Green and White halfway through the first period before wilting under a blistering YJC attack. From mid-way through the first period it was York all the way. Captains Bones and Smith had 45 points between them.

75 York vs. Hershey 49

Coach Sauder had a field an entirely different starting unit after losing seven players due to academic failure. However, the job was lightened with the acquisition of Ray Klindinst and 6' 6" center Ron Reigle who were past performers at YJC. York ran roughshod over a hapless Hershey club. Ronnie Reigle added 19 points to the cause.

Basketball

65 York vs. Altoona 57

YJC increased its league lead to two games by winning over second place Altoona. In the first three minutes of play neither team could find the basket. Ray Klinedinst finally broke the ice with a jump shot. Ronnie Reigle played his best game pacing the Big green with 22 points and several key rebounds.

92 York vs. Hershey 73

The Flying Dutchmen took wing to whip Hershey on the Hershey Community court. Ray Klinedinst poured 28 points through the hoops, while Mummert, Smith, and Reigle rebounded well.

64 York vs. Johnstown 71

After winning eight straight league games, the Johnnies sidetracked York's bid for the league title. The contest was rough and York was plagued with personal and technical fouls in the fourth quarter. Don Smith had 23 points before fouling out mid-way through fourth quarter.

80 York vs. Altoona 71

York moved closer to the league championship with an 80 to 71 victory over Altoona played at the Altoona Y.M.C.A. York converted eight fouls in the last three minutes. Smith led the attack with 28 points.

82 York vs. Mt. Alto 50

York clinched at least a tie for the title with an unimpressive win over the forestry school. This was Mt. Alto's last appearance in York as a league member since they are withdrawing from the league. Scott Lucas led the scoring with 15 points.

76 York vs. Keystone 67

York clinched the regular league title at LaPlume over the "Little Giants" of Keystone. This was a close game up to the last few minutes. Klinedinst and Smith led York with 51 points between them.

Reserves

30 YJC vs. Glen Rock 39

The Reserves opened their campaign against Glen Rock of the York County Basketball League with the lead at half time 23 to 21, but in a last minute spurt in the second half, Glen Rock came out on top with an advantage of nine points for the victory.

44 YJC vs. Wolf's Union 43

The little Green and White scored their first victory over Wolf's Union of the Sunday School League. After leading 26 to 17 at the half, the YJC attack fell apart in the second half and with five seconds left, Captain Doug Kefford drove in for two points and YJC won 44 to 43.

40 YJC vs. Miller's 35

The YJC Reserves led 21 to 16 over Miller's of Wrightsville at half time and then held on in the second half to gain a victory. Doug Kefford again led the attack with 16 points. Miller's were paced by former YJC Bob Miller who scored 12 points.

44 YJC vs. West York 33

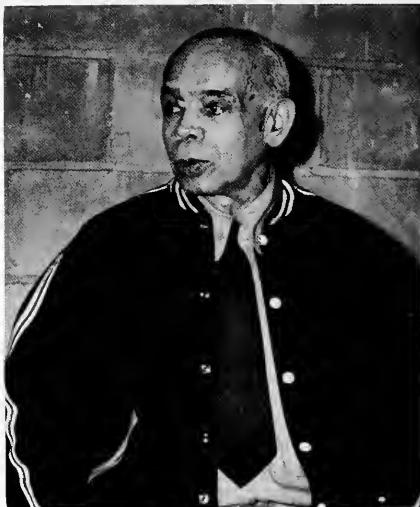

YJC led 17 to 9 at half time over the cross-town rivals from West York. In the second half, YJC out-scored West York 27 to 24. Kefford stuffed 13 points through the hoop, while jump shot artist, Scott Lucas, added 10 points for assistance.

63 YJC vs. Girard 70

Girard of the community league led the YJC reserves 37 to 29 at half time. Dick Shelton led Girard with 27 points, while Denny Nace put 19 through the hoop for YJC.

35 YJC vs. Columbia-Kaystone 52

A really good Columbia-Kaystone ball club led all the way. That's the story.

Basil—The trainer

44 YJC vs. Stevens Trade 43

While YJC played its best game of the year at the Lancaster school, at half time the teams were tied at 24 points apiece. As the end of the second half neared, York was ahead by one. The team then put on a brilliant freeze in the last three minutes to preserve the victory.

30 YJC vs. Colhub 53

York fell the victim of the championship team of the York County Community League. Joe Triggs, the ex-York High star, scored 16 for the Colhub, while Denny Nace led York with 12.

53 YJC vs. Stevens Trade 42

Coach Bob Miller's ball club again played a brilliant game against Stevens Trade. Kenny Springer put in 13 points for the York club.

62 YJC vs. Spring Grove 42

York simply ran wild over a Spring Grove club made up of former Spring Grove High School players and won by a margin of 20 points.

Tournament

Bones and Smith receive P.J.C.A.A. Trophy.

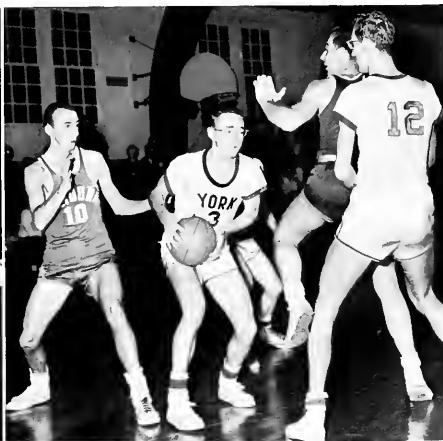

The Flying Dutchmen were hosts to the fourteenth annual Pennsylvania Junior College Basketball Tournament the last weekend in February. With a previous record of eight winners and four runner-up merits, York had a strong incentive to win the tournament and to retire the second Polack trophy.

First place York met fourth place Hershey February 27 in the semi-finals. After leading 30 to 25 at half time, York was pressed into playing hard in the third and fourth quarters. Hershey with all-tournament selections Dick D. Smith Stebick leading the way, kept the Chocolate-townners moving. Big Ron Reigle made several sparking plays and along with Lonnie Bones who scored 18, York came closer to keeping the Polack trophy by winning 73 to 58.

In the showdown game next evening York was pitted against second place Johnstown. Larry Roman from Johnstown dazzled the crowd with his shots for 34 points. Ray Kline-dinst scored 14 points in the last quarter to ice the game for York 78 to 75.
